

Welcome

to the February 2025 edition of Connected

The Christmas and New Year break caused me to play catch-up this month, and I have included some articles that would ordinarily have been published in the January Connected.

I am indebted to Margaret Seager for her update on the length or son Robert's hair, and also to Ruth Breeze for the Parochial Church Council update.
Jan Tetley provided some excellent images from the recent Card Making Morning at St Francis, and roving reporter Leita Hunter travelled to Whistler in Canada just to wish us all a Happy New Year. Who knew that the Connected budget extended to travel abroad? Not me, but expect to receive an article from me adjacent to a swimming pool on a Greek Island shortly.

Printed copies of Connected cost £5 a year, or you can pick up a single copy for 75p from any of the Churches mentioned within these pages. Subscriptions run from June each year. They will be collected by whoever delivers your copy of the magazine.

Connected may be downloaded free from the A Church Near You websites.

Articles for Connected are always gratefully received, by the IIth of the month please.

"Salt is like love; it can heal, purify preserve and enrich, but it's useless if it's not sprinkled around. The truth is that all of life is tasteless without love."

Dear Friends

Love in Action!

'Dear children, let us not love with words or speech but with actions and in truth.' (I John 3:18).

The writer Gary Chapman* describes how love can be expressed in 5 different 'languages': words of encouragement, quality time, gifts, acts of service and touch. Do you have a preferred language of love? As we think about St Valentine during this month, let's consider how God's love language is expressed in the word agape. This is exclusively found in the New Testament and is uniquely defined by Jesus: 'This is how we know what love is: Jesus Christ laid down His life for us. And we ought to lay down our lives for our brothers and sisters.' (I John 3:16). Jesus' giving of His life on the cross provides the model for how we can demonstrate God's love in our relationships with others.

It is self-giving: are we ready to put the other person first, as Jesus did when He died for us in our place. Are we generous with our time, words, money and service, whatever the cost?

It takes the initiative: are we ready to show love to those who don't deserve it or who we find hard to love? Do we have eyes of compassion to see their needs and a heart to love and serve them?

It is intentional: are we ready to get close to those in need around us, irrespective of the time we have or how we feel?

The story is told of Jesus asking a little child, 'how much do you love me?' The child replied 'lots and lots and lots!' Then they asked Jesus how much He loved them. Jesus stretched out His arms wide and said 'I love you this much', as they nailed Him to a cross.

Canon Paul Hardingham

*Gary Chapman became famous following the success of his "Five Love Languages" published first in his book The Five Love Languages: How to Express Heartfelt Commitment to Your Mate (1992).

Chapman based his theory that people give and receive love through one of five "languages": words of affirmation, quality time, receiving gifts, acts of service, and physical touch.

Chapman postulated that each language is enjoyed to different degrees by everyone, but an individual will usually favour one primary language. This concept came from Chapman's experiences as a pastor in Calvary Baptist Church in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, advising couples on their relationships. His conclusions have no scientific basis, and recent research seeking to evaluate Chapman's conclusions have had mixed results.

Brrrrrrr!

Well, the cold weather of winter 2025 appears to have been and gone, and the outlook is for much warmer weather. Wasn't it terrible? Three days of ice and snow! Mrs Clarke created a nest for herself under a pile of duvets in the lounge, and proceeded to demolish her extensive stash of Christmas chocolates and left over mince pies. Meanwhile I was sent out with a shovel to keep the front path clear...

How different from seventy years ago, when from early February 1955 and well into March, a Big Freeze took place in Britain. Deep snow and freezing temperatures caused havoc, with many places cut off. The RAF dropped food and medical supplies to affected areas, while thousands of sheep died from exposure.

Although the winters of 1947 and 1963 have attracted more publicity, 1955 saw severe weather in most parts of Britain, as well as in other parts of Europe and North America.

Snow fell in many areas of the UK from 11th February onwards, with night frosts gradually worsening and blizzards developing over the north of Scotland, where the RAF scrambled to do several rescues: in Caithness the response by emergency services was known as Operation Snowdrop. An exhausting search for a postman from Thurso, who went missing in the deep snow, eventually led to his being found at a remote farm where he had sought refuge.

Several snowploughs were stranded, and the heavy snow spread gradually south, reaching as far as the Scillies and the Channel Islands. In North Norfolk there were 10ft drifts on the coast road, and Lancashire had its worst storm for 14 years. Devon, Cornwall and the Peak District had similar experiences.

More than 70 roads in Britain were blocked by snow, according to the Automobile Association, and hundreds of vehicles were abandoned in snowdrifts. Many parts of the country were cut off from essential supplies, and rail travel was disrupted. Church attendance was also hit, of course.

Temperatures in some places fell below 28F (-3C) – the lowest for 30 years in 1955, and February's record UK minimum was set. That year also experienced the last May snowfall of the century, causing havoc with that year's County Cricket schedule, but despite all that, there was plenty of sunshine, and as a total contrast, there was a drought and a heatwave the following summer.

This Way!

How do you keep your life going in the right direction?

'Do not let this Book of the Law depart from your mouth; meditate on it day and night, be careful to do everything written in it. Then you will be ... successful.' Joshua 1.8

Any flying instructor will tell you that periodically all aeroplanes need to be 'trimmed' or 'balanced in flight'. After flying through storms and hitting air pockets, the plane's instruments need to be readjusted. That's true of our attitudes too. The air currents of life can 'knock you out of line' and keep you from reaching your destiny. 'Unexpected weather' like sickness, unemployment, divorce, death and disappointment can drive you off course.

In other words, your attitude needs to be constantly checked and adjusted. Have you checked yours lately? What are you encountering that calls for an attitude change? How are you handling it? Are you adjusting or resisting? So long as you live, you'll always need to be 'trimmed and balanced'.

The most important thing that affects your attitude in life is your faith, and that grows only as you live in God's Word. That's why God told Joshua to read the Word, speak the Word and obey the Word if he wanted to succeed.

Try the 3×5 Technique! Each week, write out one faith building scripture on a 3×5 card. Carry it with you wherever you go and memorise it. In one year, you'll know 52 new scriptures, and more importantly, your attitudes will be in line with God's Word, your faith will be strengthened, and your life will keep moving in the right direction.

Jesus the Carpenter

What you have in common with a woodcarving

Woodcarving isn't as straightforward as it seems. You don't begin with a block of wood; you begin with a piece of paper. The first step is to draw a plan of what you want to carve, and only when you've got that right do you start to shape your piece of wood.

The carver then works his block with his plan alongside it. He cuts those bits of wood away that he doesn't want, and shapes what's left until it ever more closely resembles that original plan.

Only when the design on the wood and the paper plan are identical has the carver finished his job. He's then made exactly what he'd hoped for, while working all along from that original plan.

It's the same for our lives.
God is the master carpenter. He has a unique plan for each one of us, which is a blueprint of what He hopes we will become.

As we go through life, God shapes us, cutting away those bits of us that He doesn't want and which would spoil what He hopes we'll come to look like. He then gradually moulds what's left until we look ever more like that original blueprint. Only when the two are identical will God's work be over.

But there's one big difference between a human being and a block of wood. A block of wood sits impassively on the carver's bench while he works at it. The wood cannot help the process along and has no idea what's happening to it.

God very much hopes that we'll help Him in the process of being moulded and shaped into His pattern. That's why we read the Bible and worship and pray: to find out just what His plan is for each one of us. Only when we have some idea of what He wants us to be can we help Him in the process.

Thorpe Card Making

Nine people joined us today for the first St Francis Saturday morning craft session. Some of us had a go at card making.

There was a table of cross stitch card makers, and another table was dabbling with paint.

The next crafting session will be on Saturday 15th February, and we still have two places left for these card making classes. Later in 2025 we intend to hold classes for macrame, weaving, and Dorset buttons etc.

Look out for further information!

National Nest Box Week

Where can family-minded birds raise their young these days? As our gardens and parks become smaller and tidier, too many natural nest sites - such as holes in trees, old buildings and unkempt hedgerows - are rapidly disappearing

No wonder that our sparrows, greenfinches and swifts are in precipitous decline, and that one in four of our UK bird species are now under serious threat.

This makes it more important than ever to care for our remaining birds. By feeding, providing water and putting up nest boxes we can give them a safe space to raise their chicks.

The National Nest Box Week initiative encourages bird conservation across the UK, and it's easy to get involved, whether you're a teacher, part of a local wildlife group, or just wanting to boost the bird numbers in your own garden.

Disturb us, Lord, when we are too well pleased with ourselves,
When our dreams have come true
Because we have dreamed too little,
When we arrived safely
Because we sailed too close to the shore.

Disturb us, Lord, when
With the abundance of things we possess
We have lost our thirst
For the waters of life;
Having fallen in love with life,
We have ceased to dream of eternity
And in our efforts to build a new earth,
We have allowed our vision
Of the new Heaven to dim.

Disturb us, Lord, to dare more boldly,
To venture on wider seas
Where storms will show Your mastery;
Where losing sight of land,
We shall find the stars.
We ask You to push back
The horizons of our hopes;
And to push into the future
In strength, courage, hope, and love.

Hair Today, Gone, Tomorrow, and reached out and asked after Robert's hair adventures, and after a busy December we have an update for you all! I had hoped that an update could be in the January magazine, but I unfortunately missed the early publication just before Christmas...

At the time of writing this – 5th January 2025 - the hair remains untamed. We were all looking forward to the hair being cut on 20th December 2024- the last Explorer meeting of 2024, and Robert was MORE than ready to be divested of his shaggy locks, but unfortunately, the hairdresser was unavoidably unavailable, so we came to watch Chris Cade instead (but that's a different story altogether!). One of the the pictures accompanying this rambling were taken that night (thanks John!), so you can see its wilder now -

We spoke to the hairdresser at the beginning of January, to arrange a new date, and unfortunately, it transpires the hair is still not quite long enough for the big chop. The Hairdresser thinks it could still be a while yet...

Robert and I would like to offer our most heartfelt thanks for your generosity so far. However, due to the impact of recent health issues, in early December Robert came to the difficult conclusion that he will not be able to join his fellow Explorer Scouts in July. This was a decision made in his best interest, but a sad decision all the same. Robert's immediate thoughts were that he still wanted to donate his hair and, despite his immense disappointment, for his fellow Explorers. Robert would like to pass on the money he has raised so far to his Explorer leaders to support other members of his group that may be struggling to raise the £1400 target required of each participant. We will also pass on part of the donations to the Princess Trust to further the incredible work they do for those experiencing hair loss. We do however also understand if you wish to have your donation returned, and encourage you to get in touch if this is the case.

Once we have a date, I'll let you all know, but once again our most sincere thanks for all your support so far and your understanding of Robert's decision.

What's the Big Idea - Job

Image by John Clarke

'Why does God allow suffering?' This is a frequently asked question of Christians, because we believe in a God who is both good and powerful and it is explored in the book of Job. This book is part of the wisdom literature, along with Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, and Song of Solomon.

Job was both wealthy and righteous, yet he experienced catastrophic suffering, losing all his wealth, children and health. This is portrayed as a result of Satan's challenge to God, testing whether Job's devotion to God was dependent on his circumstances or not.

The main body of the book (3:1-42:6) consists of dialogues between Job, his friends (Eliphaz, Bildad, and Zophar) and God. Job and his friends assume that God is almighty and just, and that no human being is wholly innocent. In the three cycles of speeches they wrestle with the reasons for Job's suffering, remembering his morally upright character.

Finally, all are silenced by God, as He speaks Himself (chs 38-42). He points out that Job knows very little about the universe when he reflects on God's power. Job confesses his lack of understanding and weakness, but then goes on to confess his confidence and trust in God. This puts suffering in a right perspective. Job is not condemned, and the book ends with the restoration of his family and possessions.

The importance of this book is that it realistically addresses the painful questions of life, without offering simplistic answers. It focuses on how we should respond to suffering, rather than on why God allows suffering:

'Naked I came from my mother's womb, and naked I shall depart. The LORD gave and the LORD has taken away; may the name of the LORD be praised.' (I:21)

Reflecting Faith: Church Buildings

We have been thinking about different aspects of church buildings. But what about 'the whole thing'? - the impression you have when you first see a church building?

Most of us have visited many church buildings, either to worship or as a tourist: to enjoy the splendour, the colours, the style and the architecture, with or without necessarily a time of prayer or worship.

There are some amazingly staggering designs around the world - one only has to think of the complex and intricate stone carving of Gaudi's catholic basilica in Barcelona, Spain (due to be completed next year!) and then compare that to the sleekness of the Lutheran (Church of Iceland) parish church in Reykjavík, Iceland.

How about the grandeur of St Peter's in Rome, full of baroque gold and rich colours? Or what about St Basil's Cathedral in Red Square, Moscow - now a museum but topped with amazingly coloured onion domes?

Just looking at the outside of a building tells you a lot about what it is likely to be like inside, the purpose of the building and the style of worship to expect there.

It's not just about the condition of the fabric, or the tidiness of the grounds but rather the architecture itself.

When we see a contemporary modern building, we will expect the worship to match it: whether that is Protestant, Catholic or any other denomination.

Revd. Dr Jo White

This month

If you were designing a brandnew church building today, what would you put into it and therefore what would the exterior look like? What would you want on the outside, to express your faith? Would you include any specific Christian symbols, or be more allencompassing?

PCC News

NEWS from YOUR Parochial Church Council (PCC) This is an update from our last meeting which was held on Wednesday 15th January 2025.

Rector Vacancy

A candidate will be interviewed on Monday 20th January 2025. If the recruitment is successful, we have to wait for a Formal Notification of an Appointment from the Diocese. This will be read out on the date specified by the Diocese at the Sunday services at St Wilfrid's and St Francis.

In the meantime, we continue to rely on the support of our retired clergy.

Several members of the Church have also taken on extra responsibilities, requiring a lot of time and effort. Please continue to support these people as much as possible and be mindful that there will be some changes to services due to availability of clergy going forward until our new Rector is in post.

Finance Update

Accounts - Mrs. J Clarke reported that the accounts for 2024 are currently in preparation and once completed will be checked by our External Examiner. The accounts show that our income has decreased mainly due to a reduction in Planned Giving, and that in 2025 it is likely that we will need to dip into the Reserve Account to help fund our Freewill Giving. It is hoped that in 2025 a Generous Giving Event can be held to increase planned giving.

The Trustees Annual Report

the issues raised.

(TAR) for 2024 is at a very early stage. The TAR helps people (particularly potential external funders) to understand what our Charity does (St Wilfrid's is a Registered Charity), where the money comes from and how the Trustees (PCC) have spent the money in the past year.

Legacies – In December St Wilfrid's received two Legacies. One from the estate of Margaret Webster and the other from the estate of Alan Tomblin. The PCC Secretary is in contact with their executors and has expressed our grateful thanks for being remembered in the wills. Discussions are taking place as to how these legacies can be best used.

Buildings Update

The Lightning Conductor maintenance has been completed and the branches on the trees damaged during last year's storms have been removed.

The QI (Quinquennial Report) has now been completed by our Architect. A meeting has been arranged for Feb 2025 to discuss

Worship & Prayer Update

Mrs. Sowden said that 1,148 adults and young people attended the school services in the run up to Christmas.

Mrs. Newsome advised that there will be changes to the Midweek Services in February and that the pattern is likely to continue through March. More information on Pew Sheets/

Mission & Outreach Update

Mrs. Beevers advised that the Lay Ministry Team continues to visit and take Communion to previous members of the congregation.
Mrs. Sowden added that services also continue at St Wilfrid's Court and Fernbank Court. Ms. Jackman also takes out Communion from St Francis when requested.

Preparation of new Electoral Rolls 2025

Church Representation Rules require a new church electoral roll to be prepared for each parish in 2025. The new roll must be completed not less than 15 days or more than 28 days before the Annual General Meeting (APCM).

This is a key year for people joining and rejoining the Roll as once certified at our APCM, these numbers will be used to determine the number of places our parish will have on Deanery Synod when the Deanery Synod elections are held in 2026.

If you want to be on the roll, please complete Form I, printed copies of which will be available in church from the beginning of February; they are also available on the York Diocesan website. Forms can be handed or emailed to Margaret Seager our Electoral Roll Officer or placed in a box at the back of Church. At St Francis, return forms to Shirley Croft (Electoral Roll Officer for St Francis) Tel: 01757 707380.

If you require any help with completing the Form, please email margemcb@hotmail.com, phone 07840 817005 or contact me, Ruth Breeze, PCC Secretary. Members of the Lay Ministry Team will also take Forms out with them when they do home visits & communions, and can assist with the completion of the Form.

Completed forms must be returned by Sunday 30th March 2025.

Annual Parochial Church Meeting(APCM)

This will be held on Sunday 27th April, at approx. 12 noon, in the Parish Hall, following the morning service at St Wilfrid's Bah Humbug!

Taking on the roll of Queen Victoria was probably the last thing on the minds of the audience who attended St Wilfrid's to see Chris Cade's performance of Dicken's A Christmas Carol. And yet this was only one of the many examples of audience participation!

Chris's adaptation of Dickens' classic tale was first performed in St. Wilfrid's 25 years ago in December 1999, and it was a delight to welcome him back.

Around 50 people turned out to see this fully costumed one-man adaptation. By turn Chris astonished and delighted us as we were taken through Ebenezer Scrooge's reminder of Christmases past & present, and the effect that his behaviour would have on Christmases to come.

In the end, of course, Ebenezer finds redemption in the form of the largest turkey in the butcher's shop! And in the renewed love of his family and acquaintances - they, and we, can all celebrate Christmas together. As Tiny Tim said " God bless us every one!"

ie New

Dear Lord,

We begin a New Year! We all have hopes, expectations, fears and uncertainties, as we move into 2025 – already a quarter of the way through this new century!

We can't know what will happen in the world, in our country, in our lives during this year, but we come before You, thankful that if we put our trust in Jesus and what He achieved on the cross, we need not be afraid; we are safe and secure.

He takes all our hopes and fears and gives us His Peace and His Spirit in return, to sustain and equip us this New Year and always.

Thank you, gracious Father.
Thank you, Lord of all the years.

In Jesus' name, Amen.

Connected Stapling

We are running short of people to help staple Connected each month. As a rule collating and stapling takes place on the Thursday before the last Sunday of the month, at 2pm in the Parish Hall. The work usually takes 30 minutes dependent on how many people turn up to help. If you feel you have the time to help at 2pm please telephone me on 01757 704331.
